

Individualized Master's Degree in History

From Fresno Pacific University

Are you interested in a master's degree in history?
Fresno Pacific now offers an individualized program with flexible scheduling, including evening, directed study and online coursework.

Classes start in fall 2009.

Contact:

Rod Janzen, history faculty,
Individualized Master of Arts (IMAP) program director
559-453-2210
rajanzen@fresno.edu

Marshall Johnston
History department chair
559-453-7132
marshall.johnston@fresno.edu

Professors and Areas of Specialization

Allen Carden, Ph.D.: Colonial America, U.S. History

Ernest Carrere, Ph.D.: Political, Religious and Intellectual History

Larry Dunn, Ph.D.: Historical Peacemaking

Kent Eaton, Ph.D.: Spanish, Latin American History, Nineteenth Century History

Kevin Enns-Rempel, M.A.: American History, Public History

Kenneth Martens Friesen, Ph.D.: Modern World History, Diplomatic History, Asian History

Rod Janzen, Ed.D.: American History, American Religious and Ethnic History, Mennonite History

Marshall Johnston, Ph.D.: Ancient History, Classical Languages

Pamela Johnston, Ph.D.: Roman Political Institutions, Classical Languages, Greek History

Hope Nisly, M.A.: American History, American Labor History, Women's History

Nathan Orgill, Ph.D.: Early and Modern European History, Latin American History

Cynthia Ovando-Knutson, Ph.D.: Latin American History

Brian Schultz, Ph.D.: Second Temple Period Judaism, Early Christianity

Paul Toews, Ph.D.: American History, American Religious and Intellectual History, Modern World History

Richard Unruh, Ph.D.: California History, Constitutional History

Stephen Varvis, Ph.D.: Medieval and Renaissance European History, Cultural History, Medieval Philosophy

Richard Wiebe, M.A.: Philosophy, Intellectual History, American Wilderness History, Native American studies