Values and Behavioral Expectations

The Fresno Pacific Idea affirms the university as a learning community that seeks to encourage its members ... “in a collaborative search for knowledge and experience which lend towards a perceptive and creative relationship with God, humanity, and the natural world...” As an extension of the educational mission of the Mennonite Brethren Church, the university affirms the authority of the Bible over all matters of faith and life. While Fresno Pacific University is a distinctly Christian institution, students do not have to be Christian to be admitted. Fresno Pacific University invites all who are committed to upholding the principles of respect, integrity and doing good in all situations, to be members of its community.

The common good of any community is accomplished through established standards and behavioral expectations. Fresno Pacific University bases its standards and expectations on its Community Life Values: Integrity, Respect and Stewardship.
